

there was an election with no prize settled the wasted daze and drank in your eyes

there wasn't digression, no reprise fluttered the wick away to terrible cries

just settle down, for me just passing by the night infinity...

you'll see me by the waves pain is just the beginning of something beautiful jane, dearly departed, to something sweet and pure

we will see

until again, it has to be
just settle down, for me
we'll meet again, in sky and sea

we will see

off to the gathering
